Publication Week – Workshop series of the University of Hildesheim and TU Clausthal

From September 8th to 12th, 2025, the university libraries and graduate schools of the University of Hildesheim and TU Clausthal cordially invite you to Publication Week, featuring exciting online presentations. Over five days, five experts will present on topics related to publishing. We would especially like to draw your attention to the presentation by our colleague Ana Agniashvili on " Wem gehören meine Forschungsdaten? – Urheberrecht und Lizenzen im FDM" on 11.09.2025, from 10:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. More information can be found on the event website.

Event on data management in interdisciplinary research contexts

Interdisciplinary research opens up exciting perspectives, but also brings with it complex requirements for data management. With the help of practical reports from Maren Wallbaum (TALC project) and Dr.-Ing. Reinhard Caspary (PhoenixD Cluster of Excellence), challenges and opportunities will be discussed on 22.09.2025, from 11 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Further information can be found on the event website.

Call for Contributions: Virtual Theme Day of the Data Days Lower Saxony

Until 30.09.2025, there is still the opportunity to submit contributions for the Virtual Theme Day (26.11.2025) of the Data Days Lower Saxony. This year, we especially welcome submissions in the following thematic areas:

1. Best practices in research data management
2. Automation and AI in research data management
3. Tools and technologies in research data management
4. Strategies for introducing and sustainably implementing institutional research data management
5. RDM4Braunschweig

Do you have a topic that doesn't fit into any of these areas? No problem – just get in touch with us anyway! More information about the Virtual Theme Day (and the Data Days Lower Saxony) can be found on our website:

FAIR in Action

The variety of research data management tools is growing rapidly. But how can these tools be effectively linked? The satellite event for RDM@Campus 2025, taking place from October 1-2, 2025, aims to find answers to these questions. If you are interested, you can register for the event until 12.09.2025. Further information can be found on the event website.

FDM-NDS Introduces Itself

Jule Meyer

University of Applied Sciences and Arts Hildesheim/Holzminde/Göttingen jule.meyer@hawk.de

Responsibilities:

- Technical services and tools in FDM-ndsHAW & FDM-NDS Pillar 2

Professional Background:

- Classical Archaeology and Digital Humanities, Digital Collection Management

Favorite Area or Topic in RDM?

Standardize and unify data. How else can you maintain an overview of the ever-growing mountain of data?

What is your wish for the future of RDM?

I would like to see RDM become more prominent during university studies, thus more quickly integrating into everyday research. No one should have to ask for text modules anymore, because everyone has their own foundation on the topic.

If you had a day for yourself and your favorite hobby, with unlimited time and budget, what would you do?

I go shopping at my favorite fabric store and start sewing my dream dress.

Most important item in the office/home office?

My headphones for meetings and concentrated work.
